

CU IN THE NCAA'S

The NCAA first sponsored a men's national championship in skiing in 1954, though national title meets (National Intercollegiate Championships) were held as early as 1946, the same year CU's program began. Women's programs came into being in the late 1970s, with then CU head coach and eventual AD Bill Marolt at the forefront of making it a reality. CU has competed in each of the last 41 NCAA Championships and in 52 of 55 overall. One of those three occasions where CU didn't qualify (1964), several team members had competed in the Winter Olympics, and in 1967, CU sent only a few skiers to Maine for financial reasons. The old AIAW sponsored women's titles between 1977-82; in 1983, the NCAA absorbed the AIAW but combined the men's and women's competition, as was the case in rifle and fencing. Here's an in-depth look at the NCAA Championship history of the Buffaloes.

COLORADO ALL-AMERICANS

The list of Colorado's all-time All-America skiers; research is sketchy prior to 1969, but coaches generally selected the teams themselves either at the NCAA Championships or shortly after the season was completed. One team, consisting of eight members, was selected until the mid-1960s, when both a first and second team was selected. When the NCAA merged men's skiing with the AIAW women's programs into one combined, coed sport in 1983, the formula became the first through fifth finishers earned first-team honors with the sixth through 10th performers earning second-team honors. Those members of winning relay teams also earned first-team recognition. The comprehensive list of CU All-Americans, with event listed in which the honor was earned (AIAW honors for women from 1977 through 1982):
